

University of Louisiana at Lafayette Ph.D. Fellowship Application

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette has established a fellowships program for the recruitment of superior students. University doctoral fellowships are available in the areas of Applied Language and Speech Sciences, Computer Engineering, Computer Science, Earth and Energy Science, English, Environmental and Evolutionary Biology, Francophone Studies, Mathematics, and Systems Engineering.

University Ph.D. Fellowships are competitively-awarded to support three or four years of doctoral study depending on a

PUBLICATIONS AND OTHER SCHOLARLY WORK

Include theses, article publications, conference presentations, exhibits, etc.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Briefly describe your research interests, including a tentative plan for your dissertation project. Use the space provided to describe your research interests, including a tentative plan for your dissertation project. Use the space provided to describe your research interests, including a tentative plan for your dissertation project. Use the space provided to describe your research interests, including a tentative plan for your dissertation project.

---

CERTIFICATION

By submitting this fellowship application to the Graduate School, I certify the information provided on this application is true and complete.